INTERNATIONAL DIRECTOR

Another extraordinary year is coming to an end and Toastmasters is growing and evolving around the world. Challenges continue to pop up but we have shown courage as we embrace them and convert them into opportunities. Congratulations to all of you in District 84 for staying the course, navigating through your unique challenges and remaining committed through it all.

District 84 has shown resilience, helping members transform into effective communicators and leaders. It is a pleasure to see the growth in each of you. You showed up! You took ownership of your leadership roles, participated enthusiastically in club, area, division and district events and volunteered to step out of comfort zone to embrace new challenges and opportunities. Bravo!

This is “just one more page” of the District 84 legacy, with many more to follow. Use the upcoming conference as a platform to engage and learn from the best in District 84. I am looking forward to enjoying the conference and meeting each of you.

Cheers!

ANWESHA BANERJEE, DTM
INTERNATIONAL DIRECTOR, REGION 8
2022-2024

DISTRICT DIRECTOR

Just like Toastmasters, books are uniquely magic, which is why celebrating books, writers and story-telling is such a perfect theme for our Just One More Page Conference. We invite you to feel the excitement and take time this weekend to savor every magical moment, just as you would savor every page of a good book!

As you network with old friends and make many new friends, you will discover how much you have in common, that your feelings are universal, that you're not lonely and isolated from anyone. You belong.

Thank you for the opportunity you've given me as your District leader to meet and grow with all of you. I have learned that each of us represents a valuable page in the story of District 84 Toastmasters. Each page is uniquely valuable. The best part is that our Toastmaster story continues to grow in value with every new 'page'. Jump in and explore the many 'pages' of our Toastmasters conference. Great gifts await...go find them.

Ben Franklin said, "either write something worth reading or do something worth writing."

WHAT WILL YOUR STORY BE?

VICKIE GOODMAN, DTM

PROGRAM QUALITY DIRECTOR

As a child I would find cozy places in my home to submerge myself in the joy of reading. When my mom would call me I would try to read “Just One More Page” before answering her call.

Over the years of my life, each word I would read created a new opportunity for me.

Each of us have memories of discovering the impact of words in our lives so take a few minutes during the conference to remember those moments when you traveled to another world through the pages of a book or when you felt inspired and motivated through the words of someone else.

Today provides a wonderful opportunity to add “Just One More Page” to your journal of life. Read another page, write another paragraph and encourage someone to share their thoughts. District 84 Toastmasters and guests, let’s celebrate together during our 2024 conference because we all have something powerful to share!

FELICIA SHORTER, DTM

CLUB GROWTH DIRECTOR

Just One More Page" is a thread that is woven throughout my life:

"Just one more page?"
I'd beg as we read our bedtime story.

"Just one more page..."
I'd convince myself while studying.

"Just one... more... page,"
I'd chant while typing out my thesis.

"Just one more page?!"
my children exclaim when we finish a homeschool lesson.

And so it goes...

Enjoy this weekend as we embark on an adventure together. Filling your pages with laughter, joy, and educational moments surrounded by those who have the same mission – to find greater purpose in a positive and supportive environment.

I'm grateful for everyone who has helped fill the chapters of my life while on my journey with Toastmasters.

May your conference experience add a golden thread to your story and make your story one about which others can't help but ask for "just one more page?"

AMANDA CROSS, DTM

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Anwesha Banerjee, DTM, of Brisbane, California, is a neuroscientist for Annexon Bioscience. In her role, she leads preclinical programs with the mission to develop therapeutic strategies and interventions for neurological disorders.

With these outstanding credentials, you might wonder why R8 International Director Anwesha Banerjee joined Toastmasters.

“Public speaking was definitely not one of my strengths. Toastmasters introduced me to this whole new world of wonderful people and exemplary leaders. I have made friends for life, and I have had the opportunity to learn from mentors I wouldn’t have found otherwise.

Working through multiple leadership opportunities, I have improved my management skills and learned to work better on teams in my club, my District, and as an International Director. Most importantly, Toastmasters has instilled confidence in me that has changed the way I see myself and how I see the world.”

District 84 is proud to host International Director, Anwesha Banerjee, DTM, as our honored dignitary and Keynote Speaker.

The earliest surviving written literature is from ancient Mesopotamia. The Epic of Gilgamesh is often cited as the first great composition, although some shorter compositions have survived that are even earlier. Apart from its length, the Epic of Gilgamesh may be considered the earliest significant composition because of its enduring impact on literature through the ages. It is believed to have influenced other ancient literary works, including the Iliad, the Odyssey, Alexander romance literature, and the Hebrew Bible (Old Testament), all of which continue to have significant literary impact in their own right.
